NORSK FRILUFTSLIV is comprised of 15 Norwegian volunteer organisations with more than 720 000 members and 4600 outdoor life clubs and organisations. Each organisation has its own members. The organisations are open to everyone. They are either nationwide organisations or have more than 10 000 members each. The organisations do not support the use of motorised vehicles in nature nor organise competitive activities.

NORSK FRILUFTSLIV WORKS TO

- promote all-round, basic and ecofriendly use of outdoors/nature in accordance with traditional Norwegian practice for how nature should be used and to promote new outdoor activities for everyone
- to promote issues of common interest to our organisations with the government and other relevant target groups
- Health, enjoyment and increased understanding of nature's intrinsic value, by experiencing nature
- promote the public right of access to nature and facilitate access and use of nature

ORGANISING the Annual Meeting (with representatives from our member organisations). The Annual Meeting is Norsk Friluftsliv's highest authority. It determines and establishes our long-term plans and elects the members of the board. The board runs Norsk Friluftsliv's operations and conducts the annual meeting, makes decisions and delegates the use of the organisation's funds in accordance with our goals and action plans. The administrative staff is led by the secretary general. There are 4 full-time staff members who run the organisation and implement the board's decisions. The directors of affiliated member organisations meet regularly and acts as a consultative body for the secretary general of Norsk Friluftsliv when dealing with political issues related to outdoor life.

VISIONS AND GOALS
for 2013-2016: "Outdoor life and nature-based activities; More often, for everyone" – and raising political and economic awareness of the significance of outdoor life and the need for organisations that promote outdoor life for individuals and for society as a whole.

TASKS

- distributes public funds for organisation projects and report to the authorities on the use of these
- initiate projects that can promote outdoor activities and professional knowledge
- publish reports, studies and disseminate news on outdoor policies
- publish and submit official consultation statements process in matters of national and public interest
- cooperate with the authorities to develop good outdoor/nature policies
- promote a good dialogue with political parties and other stakeholders
- act as the secretariat for the Forum for Natur og Friluftsliv (FNF) and the Year of Outdoor Life 2015

MAIN OBJECTIVES

- Improve economic framework conditions for our organisations
- The Year of Outdoor Life 2015 is a national commitment to promote outdoor life
- Public right of access should become common knowledge in society
- Recognition of outdoor life/nature's significance for culture, nature and public health
